

- As the consolidation process goes forward, who has the authority to make decisions regarding the new municipality's personnel or operations, etc.? What is the time frame for making these decisions?

The TTF is an advisory body. Its charge is "to recommend and facilitate appropriate actions and decision concerning consolidation."

The two governing bodies have the authority to make decisions.

Currently, the TTF has divided its work into 8 subcommittees. Meetings and minutes of the subcommittees are on the CGR website (www.cgr.org/Princeton/transition) as is a timeline of the work through the rest of this year.
